DOW BUILT FINE SUMMER HOME

Directors Didn't Know of the Broker's Heavy Borrowings.

Used in His Business.

A. L. Wyman, secretary of the Franklin, North Shore, Rhode Island, Mining and Copper Company, from whom Dow borrowed, said today to a Boston AMERICAN reporter:

What Mr. Dow has done is simply this: He borrowed money from the mine to carry on his brokerage business, and some came out through such experiences and no one knows anything about it. In this respect, it was not a secret, but all liabilities in the case of Mr. Dow, with the exception of the $100,000 loan from the mine, were assigned to Fred H. Williams of No. 50 College street, who is also counsel for Mr. Dow.

He is carefully going over the books and in a few days a statement will be made which will show more light on the matter.

There is no mystery in the business. It is as clear as the day. You get through some speculations and some you do not.

Dow's office was at No. 50 Congress street in May, 1911, when the Honorable W. W. Woodbury, U. S. Senator, was in the city.

The treasurer of all 700 of the companies were closed. The situation was not the same as it was in the past.

Dow has been president or director in ten mining companies. The total authorized capitalization is $2,500,000, or this $10,425,775 has been paid in.

Built Fine Summer Home.

Inquiries today at Dow's name in Brooklyn failed to reveal his whereabouts. It was reported today the broker had recently built a magnificent home at Manchester-by-the-Sea and that he has been with his wife with a $75,000 automobile.

After the broker's failure he resigned as president and director of the four companies from which he had obtained loans aggregating $250,000, and today the stockholders said he had resigned also from the Old Colony, Elm River and Contact mining companies.

The failure and subsequent revelation that the entire cash properties of the four companies practically had been loaned to him caused one of the largest losses in the history of the mining industry.

It is a mystery as to where the cash went. The officials of the companies may have not used it himself, but lost it in the hands of his business which are embarrassed.

Statement by Edwards.

R. M. Edwards, acting president of the so-called Dow properties, intends to remain in Boston indefinitely and to devote his time to the administration of the affairs of these companies. He says concerning the affairs of Mr. Dow, in his relation to the affairs of these properties:

The most serious phase of the whole trouble lies in the fact that Mr. Dow, for the amount of $100,000 from the treasury of the companies which he was president, almost $300,000.

It has been said that these borrowings were with the knowledge and consent of the various boards of directors. Unqualified denial can be made to this statement. Not one of the directors had the slightest knowledge of the cash being loaned to him in the credit of these properties was not in fact available for working capital.

The first knowledge I had that the money was in the bank was to meet workers' drafts for payroll, etc. I was informed of the exact status of affairs.

It can be stated, however, in justice to Mr. Dow, that he thought he was acting within his rights, and that he was acting in good faith.

While some might argue that a $250,000 loan is a large sum, it is not so when you consider that the company has a total authorized capitalization of $2,500,000, and that the loan is only a small part of the total.

Finances in Bad Shape.

So far as the operation of the properties is concerned, there is no one more familiar with their actual condition than I, and no one more interested in working out the best results obtainable. Mr. Dow's failure is one which I do not personally really regret, but it is a serious blow to the company.

Of course the knowledge of the mines involved are in bad shape, but the stockholders have been informed of the situation and it is up to them to decide what to do.

While some might argue that a $250,000 loan is a large sum, it is not so when you consider that the company has a total authorized capitalization of $2,500,000, and that the loan is only a small part of the total.

CONFIRM SAM SCHEPP'S STORY

Henry Tolman has been retained treasurer to succeed Bailey, who resigned.

Where Did Cash Go?

Mr. J. Edwards has succeeded Dow as president since his failure.

Mr. Tolman was asked:

"The fact is, then, that the treasury of each company was cleaned out of cash to take up the notes of Mr. Dow's firm?"

"Yes," he answered, "that is the way we have made it to the stockholders in the circular we have sent out."

Are the directors going to take any action in view of the fact that the loans were made without their authority?

"I do not know about that," said Mr. Tolman. "I am not sure of the facts of this matter a day or two ago."

Mr. Tolman was born in Boston, Feb. 18, 1872. In 1898 he became associated with the brokerage house of Chase & Butterfield, and with the firm in 1901. In 1908 he became associated with the firm of C. W. Walker & Co., Inc., in his capacity of vice president.

Mr. Tolman was incorporated under laws of New Jersey, capital stock $100,000, authorized capital $1,000,000; president, Stephen B. Dow; treasurer, R. M. Edwards; directors, A. L. Wyman, A. R. Bailey, A. L. Wyman, A. R. Bailey.

HELD FOR DEATH OF BOY BY A BULLET

SACON. Ma., Sept. 28.—Edward Schwartz of West Kensington, known as the Fur King of York County, was arraigned in police court today charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Chester Gaffan, the eleven-year-old son of Mrs. Fred Gaffan of Union street. Gaffan was accidentally shot at the Grange Fair. Schwartz conducted a shooting gallery at the fair. A rifle was accidentally discharged, it is said. Schwartz pleaded not guilty and the case was continued a week.

Mr. Bryce has been most interested to learn that Vincent Astor, the most desirable "catch" in America, arrives from Europe tomorrow.

Young Astor has passed most of his time motoring on the continent with his mother, Mrs. Wm. A. Whiting, Astor, and her daughter are coming over about the middle of October. They will spend the greater part of the Winter with Vincent Astor, who has leased the Lloyd Bryce house at No. 1023 Fifth avenue.

Mr. Bryce, who is American minister to Argentina, is expected to leave Washington on the steam strainer Tuesday.

So are Mr. and Mrs. F. Egerton and their daughter, Miss Laura V. Webb, Mrs. de Navarero and Mr. Stephen M. P. Fell.

"GOLD COAST" IS AGAIN ON THE MARCH

Haven's Gold Coast is as bright and glittering this year as ever before. But it is not here to tempt the eye, as usual, about "all that glitters"—and to apply the old adage, the Gold Coast proves to have a decidedly heavy duty.

For Harvard men—the upper classes and especially the seniors—have almost altogether deserted the luxurious department stores along Mount Auburn street, and the old halls in the Yard are packed to overflowing.

Harvard is getting back to gait—back to the old days of the "Gold Coast" and its principles generally. The men are giving up their automobiles, and throwing back the reins that before the fall have taken the place of autos as an exhilarating sport.

Fewer Autos Now.

The desertion of the Gold Coast is the fruit of a movement of several years duration. It is partly due to a growing conservatism among the college boys, but more, perhaps, to the repeated effort and pleading of President Lowell for a simpler way of living.

There are three significant indications of the new spirit at Harvard. The first is the desertion of the Coast—for while the desertion there is full as ever, the occupants are freshmen, where previously the Freshmen were not and are not in at all during their first year. Few upper classes now live in the MC Auburn street dormitory.

A second indication comes in the number of automobiles owned by the students. Last year, there were thirty-seven. This year, so far as is ascertained, there are only twenty-one. The number has been cut almost in half, and the number of automobiles in the college is estimated at less than twenty.

A third equally significant indication is the part of the winter in Memorial Hall. "Men," is just fairly well known in the dormitory. For the captains of the winter term, there are only twenty-one. The number has been cut almost in half, and the number of automobiles in the college is estimated at less than twenty.

The head waiter still serves a Truett, and the upper classes still dine in the dining room, but he is a sort of solitary figure, and the men are now crowded upon by democracy.

Plan Gains Repetition

The abandonment of the Gold Coast has been a slow process—up to this point, for some time, the Freshmen have been migrating from the Yard to the old Thayer, Holy Trinity, Boston, and Harvard dormitories for their first year. But the migration has never included anything like the full strength of the class. Last year, many of the Freshmen were in dormitories outside the Yard, and this year, many of the Freshmen are in dormitories outside the Yard.

At the end of the year, practically all the Freshmen—about 300 of them—had a great majority of the upper classes, and the Freshmen were in the Yard, and the Freshmen were in the Yard, and the Freshmen were in the Yard.

PLANS MOTORBOAT RACE ACROSS OCEAN

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Crests Thomas Fleming Day of New York says he intends to motor across the Atlantic in a motor boat in 1913 from New York to Paris.

Dr. Hartman Says: Write to Peruna Testimonials if You Want to Know the Truth.

The following letter was received by Dr. Hartman through his regular correspondence:

"I notice the testimonial of Mrs. Allen, which you give in your last article. If it is true, as you suppose she would give me further particulars I have heard it some many times that they are either badly fictitious or else the people have been hired to write them. I have never seen any of them, and I have never seen any of them, and I have never seen any of them."

My dear Madam—I do not wonder that you are confused and have lost faith in advertised remedies. There has been so much said against them, so much controversy concerning them, I am not surprised that some people have lost confidence in them.

I wish you would write Mr. Bogin, as you would to me, and I wish you would write Mr. Bogin, as you would to me, and I wish you would write Mr. Bogin, as you would to me."

I hope you will remember that she is a housewife, like yourself, and has something to do besides writing letters. She is a housewife, like yourself, and has something to do besides writing letters. She is a housewife, like yourself, and has something to do besides writing letters."

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many people are making inquiries for the old Peruna. The formula is now put out under the name of E.A. Carlisle & Pope Co., 27 N. Main St., Boston, Mass. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

CLAMM'NEELY WAS DRUGGED

Residence of Major Frank M. Neely, as shown adjacent to the site of the fatal shooting, New York National Guard, who was found dead with the gas turned on in a room in the Thorneike House, No. 76 Green Street, when he was given "knock-out drops," according to dispatches from Albany. Some of his relatives, or an attorney representing them, are expected in Boston today, to press their demands for a thorough investigation, and will be present at the inquest, which is to be held in a few days.

Word from Albany says also that relatives of the dead millionaire declared he was accompanied to the hotel by two men, and that the writing on the register of the hotel was not his own. His register was "A. Neely." They will demand an investigation of this.

Citizens of Albany, where the major was well known, are thoroughly stirred by the case. It is the belief there he met Ella and played. They believe he was pushed.

When the major left Albany he had a large sum of money, besides a gold watch, a diamond stickpin and many other valuables. But a few cents were found on the body.

The theory that the major died by gas poisoning is excited by his relatives and friends. They point to the wounds they claim were on the head when the body arrived in Albany and ask how they came there. Medical Examiner Henshaw found superficial wounds on the head, but he gave it as his opinion after the autopsy that death was due to gas poisoning.

No Title for This Little Could Girl NEW ST. PAUL'S Lady Decies' Sister Would Be Poetess OPENS OCT. 7

A little girl of eleven—one of the wealthiest little girls in the world—who might be expected to have a quite national reputation for a life of idleness and idleness, "Edith Gould" and her sister, Vivian, the poetess of the social world, surprised her elders of the British aristocracy, and the American press by a letter announcing that she was going to devote her life to doing something that should be remembered.

The little girl is Miss Edith Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould. The pretty story of the little girl's devotion was reported in Boston today.

Haverhill Barber Gets $30,000, Leaves Man Half Shaved

HAVERHILL, Sept. 25.—Only one hair on the head of Joseph Nymally, 37, who has inherited $30,000, is left. He is now in the city with only half of his face shaved looking for another barber.

The transition from $12 a week to a fortune of $30,000 was Nymally's to make. He dropped his razor to make it. He was shaving a man when a messenger came with a special delivery letter. Without any apology Nymally read the letter and then threw his razor on the floor, his face half shaved.

He returned later with his razor and explained that his razor had been in the city. When Nymally learned the fact, he was so shocked that he had to go to the State University at Tufts.

ELLIS DEFENDS GRAND TRUNK

Major Charles E. Hatfield of Newton, chairman of the Republican State Committee, admitted while presiding at a meeting of Newton citizens, called to discuss the proposed route of the Grand Trunk through the city that he believed in President Charles S. Mott's New England road.

"It is a controlled monopoly," he explained. Representative Charles H. Ellis, chairman of the House Railroad Committee, which heard the Grand Trunk's petition, long before with him.

"I shall have to offer with the Mayor," said Mr. Ellis. "We have not a controlled monopoly. The powers of the Railroad Commission are only recomended duty."

Mr. Ellis declared that although some of the members of the Legislature might be affected with "New Englandism," he was not.

Mr. Ellis declared he had been attacked at the State House lately by the petition from citizens of the State requesting the Legislature to allow the Grand Trunk to build a line to Boston.

"And more than 800 citizens of Newton, the larger proportion of them property owners with ample opportunity to study the bill, signed one of the petitions," he said.

"Blue Monday" for the Horse

There is a sickness among horses known as "Blue Monday." It comes always on a Monday. It is caused by horses overfeeding on Sunday and no work on that day. It is what might be termed "horse indigestion."

"Blue Monday" sickness usually manifests itself a short time after the horse is at work on Monday. Sometimes the horse is given a lay-off for the entire day; other times after an hour's delay he is on the way again.

But meantime deliveries are set back, promises are broken, customers become impatient and dissatisfied, and business is lost.

Messrs. John Wise and Son, up the street, are getting most of this lost business. They do not use horses in their delivery any longer. They use motor trucks.

Alco motor trucks are not affected by an idle and over-fed Sunday. They do not consume on that day. They are not susceptible to indigestion. They deliver the goods as well on Monday as on Saturday. They enable their owners to keep promises, to satisfy customers, to reach out and get new business.

An Alco truck is waiting in our salesroom to show you what it is doing for others—doing in eighty-six lines of business in the leading cities of the country. Phone Back Bay 5460 and it will call on you.

Alco Trucks are built by the American Locomotive Company

Dr. Heber Bishop declared today that his reason for quitting the presidency of the American A. A. was that it was a boring organization—pure and simple, instead of an all-around athletic association as he had thought it would be when he accepted the position. In a letter to the sporting editor of the AMERICAN today, he said:

When I was asked to assist in the formation of the P. A. A. and become its first president, I was told that it was not merely to encourage all kinds of clean athletic sports, including outdoor sports in which I am deeply interested, but was a genuine and, in view, ultimate, the erection of a clubhouse. I felt there was a need for such an association, with moderate dues, in Boston. I was told that the organization was to be a 50-50 split between amateur and world athletes, and I was asked to stand in the breach of the latter group. I was told that the amateur athletes were to be the backbone of the organization, and that the world athletes were to be the "big boys" who would bring the glory, and the money. I have felt that I should re-

Wilson's Winning Note a Progressive Creed

That was an admirable speech which Governor Wilson delivered to the students at Princeton Tuesday.

Felicitous in phrase, clear in analysis, and full of information and essential truth, the brief address was at once an argument and an appeal.

What the governor said of political bosses is worthy of the emphasis of editorial reproduction.

The man we call boss is the agent of those who wish to control politics in their own interest.

I have known some of these gentlemen personally, and I know exactly how they work. They haven't any politics at all. That is the point, and there is no difference between a Democratic boss and a Republican boss, because neither of them is working for his party. They are both working for their clients. And their clients wish to see that men do not get into office who thwart them, and that laws are not passed that embarrass their business.

The chief supporters of the Democratic boss, if he happens to be in the majority, are often those most closely associated with the Republican boss, and vice versa.

Governor Wilson has expressed in plain, clear language the view which Mr. Hearst and his newspapers have urged for many years. The boss has no politics but graft. The boss belongs to no party, and unites with other bosses to control both parties. The general recognition of this fact is the best promise of the abolition of the boss.

Progressives of all parties—Democratic, independent and Republican—note with eminent satisfaction that Governor Wilson in his recent speeches is swinging into the aggressive campaign which deserves and will win success.

Was the Shirt You Wear Made In a Prison?

The Chances Are You Do Not Know WHERE It Was Made. They Make Shirts in the RHODE ISLAND Penitentiary, and the State of Rhode Island Gets Two-and-One-Half Cents for Each Shirt. That Unrighteous Contract Is About to be Abrogated, and Governor Pothier Says the State Will Make $150,000 Through the Abrogation. The State of Rhode Island Ought to Do More Than That. The State SHOULD PUT AN END TO THE OUTRAGEOUS COMPETITION OF PRISON LABOR WITH FREE LABOR.

The Sterling Manufacturing Company of Chicago, for whom the convicts in the Rhode Island Penitentiary at Cranston have been making over ONE MILLION SHIRTS A YEAR AT TWO-AND-ONE-HALF-CENTS A SHIRT, has reluctantly agreed to the abrogation of a most unrighteous contract.

Emulating Mr. Davy Crockett's coon, which promised to come down if Crockett would not shoot, the Chicago shirt dealers have decided not to contest longer with the Rhode Island authorities.

In the case of the Cranston shirt contract, Governor Aram J. Pothier, one of the finest characters in New England public life, was the Davy Crockett. Governor Pothier's weapon was the gun of public opinion, cast, our readers will recall, by the AMERICAN.

A good deal that was shadowy in Rhode Island politics came to light in the investigation of this shirt contract, an investigation urged by the AMERICAN. In some States, the Sterling Manufacturing Company is paying TWICE AS MUCH, for prison labor, as it has been paying in Rhode Island. And when a second five-year contract was entered into—a contract that would have had four more years to run if the AMERICAN had not URGED, the public had not DEMANDED and Governor Pothier had not ACTED—the Sterling Company was the LOWEST OF SEVEN BIDDERS for the prison labor.

We observe that Governor Pothier points out that the abrogation of this wicked contract will SAVE THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND $150,000.

The State, Governor Pothier says, represented by the new Board of Control and Supplies created in his administration and named by him, can now go into the market, advertise for bids, and MAKE A NEW CONTRACT at ruling prices largely in excess of what the State HAS BEEN RECEIVING.

The AMERICAN fears that the justly popular Governor of Rhode Island has OVERLOOKED SOMETHING.

The hundreds of convicts in the penitentiary at Cranston, who have been making shirts at two and a half cents a shirt, have been competing, UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE STATE, with FREE labor, with the free labor of YOUNG GIRLS, MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN, MOTHERS OF FAMILIES.

Thanks to this TWO-AND-ONE-HALF-CENT SHIRT BUSINESS OF THE GREAT STATE OF RHODE ISLAND, the wages of shirtmakers everywhere have been kept down; down below the LIVING WAGE, down below DECENTY, down below AMERICAN STANDARDS.

Governor Pothier should see to it—and the AMERICAN believes he will—that if the labor of the prisoners of his great State is again to be offered to the HIGHEST BIDDER the new contract shall not only ensure the State of Rhode Island a square deal, but shall also provide a square deal for the shirt jobber who cannot get prison labor and for the shirtmaker who has BENT TO PAY, FUEL TO BUY and MOUTHS TO FEED.

The competition of the prisoner with the free laborer is one of the problems of our time. A thorough study of prison labor, and a complete reform of its injustices, are among the things NEAREST TO THE HEART OF OUR OWN GOVERNOR FOSS.

The Rhode Island scandal adds another reason—if another reason is necessary—for the return of Governor Foss to the executive chair on Beacon Hill.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

A REPLY TO MR. PERKINS

Dear Sir: I have not in years read an article that contains so many errors and gross misstatements as are contained in Mr. G. W. Perkins' letter to the BOSTON AMERICAN of September 16. It would require far more space than I have at right to command to answer all of his misstatements.

For one thing Governor Wilson did not criticize the sagacity or good will of American business men engaged in the foreign trade, but rather the maintenance of a system which forbids the export of goods on equal terms with foreign nations in this trade. This system forces them to keep their prices low exclusively on their home trade and makes them provided by the very conditions under which it is carried on.

Again our government officials are not ignorant or stupidly hostile to the extension of foreign business in the sense that Mr. Perkins states it. Through our consular reports, for instance, very excellent information is offered for the extension of this trade. At this moment I know of an American manufacturer who has offered foreign bidders to aid him in establishing a new business abroad, but he can get no assistance from American banks. It is the fault of our government or of our defective banking system.

Sixty years ago our business men were doing business and extending our shipping in all parts of the world without government assistance. Today, with much more information furnished by the government, our foreign shipping is dead and our foreign trade is conducted under great handicaps. What Governor Wilson is desirous of accomplishing is the abolition of these handicaps—the tariff, excessive shipping laws and costly banking conditions.

I have lived abroad for some years and from actual observation I know some of the difficulties under which the foreign trade is carried on. I think I can state the real obstacle to an extension of this trade.

The other misstatement of Mr. Perkins I must leave to the judgment of the readers of the BOSTON AMERICAN. G. D. WILLIAMSON, Mass.

Better the Steel

Wilson Not Constructive; Would
He Prefer Homestead Riots to Peaceful Steel Industry?

Fifth Article Written for the Boston American
By George W. Perkins

WHEN Governor Wilson left New York he said that the tariff and the trusts were the main issues in this campaign. The country, therefore, has been looking forward with keen interest to what Governor Wilson would say of an illuminating nature on this subject during his present speech-making trip; what ideas he would express as to the policy that the Democratic Party would pursue, if placed in power, in order to solve for the country the pending problems involved in the tariff and trust questions.

Up to Friday the papers do not report Governor Wilson as having offered a single constructive suggestion on the subject. They do not report him as having made any definite statement as to what his party would do to point out better ways, better methods, if placed in power.

He has roundly criticized and made fun of the programme suggested by the Progressive Party, but has offered absolutely nothing of a concrete nature as a substitute.

On two or three occasions, in referring to the plank in the Progressive platform for the regulation and control of trusts and big business, Governor Wilson has dismissed the subject by saying that "the only word he knew of to characterize Roosevelt's proposal to take the trusts into governmental partnership was 'rats'."

He evidently disapproves of the fact that there have been no riots in the steel business since the Steel Corporation was formed.

He evidently disapproves of the fact that there has been very little labor disturbance.

He evidently disapproves of the fact that there have not been complaints from competitors that they were being crushed out.

He evidently disapproves of the fact that consumers have not complained of ruinously high prices.

He evidently disapproves of the fact that wages have not been reduced at any time to starvation figures.

He makes it clear that he thinks the country, as a whole, would have been much better off had Mr. Carnegie gone right on building up his business and his individual fortune.

He evidently objects to the conditions existing today in the steel industry in this country by which the profits of the Steel Corporation are distributed to hundreds of thousands of people all over the country.

Even Carnegie Disagrees With Wilson

He evidently objects to the fact that over twenty million dollars have been distributed to employees by the Steel Corporation during the last few years under its profit-sharing plans.

He evidently believes that it would have been better had this sum gone to swell Mr. Carnegie's individual fortune.

He evidently knows that in this latter respect Mr. Carnegie himself disagrees with Governor Wilson, for Mr. Carnegie has repeatedly expressed to me his great admiration of the relationship that the Steel Corporation has succeeded in establishing with its employees. He has frequently complimented the corporation upon its profit-sharing plans, which, as he himself puts it, have made partners out of employees.

Mr. Carnegie is so wise and far-sighted that he sees that we are entering a period of co-operative effort, and he cordially welcomes it as a method of adjusting some of the serious problems existing between labor.

The business questions of the hour are of grave moment to millions of people in this country. They cannot be waved aside with the exclamation of "Rats!" or "Tell it to the marines!"
